Joining Sangath means being part of an organization that truly values and supports its people.

About the Project

The current study using digital tools, like mindLAMP, aims to integrate shared-care for Schizophrenia into Primary Care. This research program, through a Randomised Controlled Trial, evaluates the effectiveness of combining COPSI with mindLAMP, as compared to COPSI alone. It also looks at the benefits of digital phenotyping and assesses the sustainability of shared-care. Aligned with the National Mental Health Policy 2017, the study aims to integrate psychosocial rehabilitation for schizophrenia into India's primary care, using digital platforms to improve care effectiveness, implementation, and sustainability.
